February 15, 2016

Dear Dr. Martin Kustati, M.Pd
Editor in Chief of Al Ta’lim Journal

We wish to submit a new manuscript entitled “Employing Graphic Organizers through Team-Pair-Solo Strategy to Improve Reading Comprehension Ability of the Eighth Graders” for consideration by the Al Ta’lim Journal.

We confirm that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere.

In this paper, we report on research findings of implementing an alternative strategy that is using graphic organizers through Team-Pair Solo strategy in solving problems of the Eighth Graders especially in Reading Comprehension. This is significant because the result of this research has both theoretical and practical contribution for teachers especially an English teachers and future researchers. Theoretically, this study can enhance the ideas in teaching English as foreign language. Practically, to the English teachers, the result of this study can be set as an alternative teaching strategy to improve the students’ reading comprehension ability or to overcome similar problem in teaching reading. For further or future researchers, this research study gives the information about the concept and practice of the strategy used in this study as valuable reference and provides them with some suggestions to improve the quality of the following research on the similar topic. The paper should be of interest to readers in the areas of Education which is in the areas of your journal especially teaching English as foreign language.

Please address all correspondence concerning this manuscript to me at linasatriyani@gmail.com

Thank you for your consideration of this manuscript.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Lina Satriyani